Safeguard Property Value

Psychological Defence Strategy with reversible Graffiti Protection

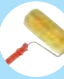

For all building owners, graffiti is an annoyance. It gives the property an uncared-for appearance, and, if unchecked, lowers its value. The problem is that graffiti attacks are usually carried out at night, making it almost impossible to catch the sprayer in flagranti – or, in other words, in the act.

PSS Subito is no conventional façade paint, but an anti-graffiti paint with a particularly high covering power. This guarantees that the graffiti will not show through the over-painting. For a long-term effect, PSS Subito can also be impregnated with faceal oleo surface protector. PSS Subito can either be applied proactively to the façade in two coats as a graffiti protection, or used to paint over existing graffiti. In both cases, subsequent graffiti attacks can be simply over-painted with the same colour. The advantage is that the property owner or manager can now make graffiti disappear, quickly and without any problems!

PSS Subito – Get there first – Get there fast

 Graffiti attack on the façade protected with PSS Subito	 On the next day: Over-paint with PSS Subito	 Another graffiti attack at the same location	 Again a quick reaction: Apply a coat of PSS Subito	 The sprayer strikes yet again

After every graffiti attack, the daubed wall section is painted over with PSS Subito as quickly as possible. The principle is simple. PSS Subito is there day and night, when the sprayers are active.

This defensive strategy needs to be continued until the sprayer becomes discouraged and gives up. In most cases, sprayers give up after three to four attempts when it becomes clear that immortality through their works is not a possibility.

After the third graffiti attack, either paint over once again with PSS Subito or simply and quickly remove all the coats with water and a brush, having wet the surface well before starting. Thanks to PSS Subito, the original sub-surface remains undamaged.
